

One of the most significant issues facing Congress, and the nation, is illegal immigration. I believe securing our borders is a top priority and needs to take place first. We need to strictly enforce our current laws while ensuring that we do not reward those who have broken our laws. I am absolutely opposed to amnesty for illegal immigrants.

I do support legal immigration and particularly the H2-B visa program. Our immigration policies must adequately provide for our small and seasonal businesses that rely on temporary workers in order to survive.
